

of the more fundamental question of slavery. Though dark centuries of the past have passed away, leaving behind them a world of peace, still the air with thunderbolts which smote embodied men prolonged and bloody times. Many a million men in all came down from the North, shouting as they marched. This union forever and equal rights for the world had now for each section the same war aim: fighting not for aggrandizement, nor for conquest, but for the integrity of the flag and the principle of liberty. On the 19th of April, 1862, at Annapolis, Md., the President

ATLANTA'S GREAT ACHIEVEMENT.

The Atlanta Exposition, which opens today, has peculiar interest and significance. That the Exposition will be well worth the attention of the civilized world as a triumph of art and industry and an aggregation of exhibits of the world's work is certain. It will be in all respects a World's Fair replete with attractions. It is held in one of the most beautiful and interesting cities of the South, where the charms of the old and the wonders of the new South are to be found in conjunction. But the Atlanta Exposition has an interest and meaning beyond its merits as a display of the products of industry and skill. It remarkably exemplifies the value of courage and enterprise. The Exposition was projected under the most discouraging circumstances. Chicago, great effort had just been completed and was believed to have exhausted exhibition energies and interest. The commercial and industrial world was plunged in a wave of depression and disaster. But with full knowledge of these adverse conditions and with an avowed purpose of mastering them and proving that human energy can rise superior to depression and disaster, the people of Atlanta took hold of the Exposition idea and have won a signal victory over adverse circumstances. The Atlanta Exposition, therefore, is not only great as an exposition, but as an achievement of indomitable spirit. It is a monument of the courage and enterprise which are characteristic of Atlanta.

CONSOLIDATION A NECESSITY.

The decision to consolidate into one the three great organizations formed to promote the cause of bimetallism is wise. All the forces working for the gold standard propaganda are united. Party lines are obliterated as far as this question is concerned and Democrats and Republicans are standing shoulder to shoulder fighting for a common cause. The supporters of gold monometallism are willing to sink all party differences and interests in order to secure the triumph of their monetary policy. Union and harmony must be met with silver forces would be the opportunity of the enemy. It would be fatal to the cause of bimetallism. Honest bimetallists everywhere must come together and stick together and work together. Above all they must work together with the sole object of insuring victory for the cause regardless of the rival ambitions and interests of would-be leaders. There must be no exploitation of silver sentiment for the benefit of politicians seeking preferment.

THE DETROIT PLAN.

At the beginning of April the Post-Dispatch strongly urged the adoption of the Detroit plan in St. Louis. A number of citizens became interested, and on April 19 a meeting was held at Chateaufort Hall at which a committee was organized to put the plan into operation. Many vacant lots were tendered and agricultural instruments and seeds were donated. Nothing was wanting but a continuance of the interest shown at the first meeting to put the plan into effect in ample time. Yet it nearly "died aborning" because several of the first promoters lost interest. On June 11 it was gleefully announced by a morning paper that the Detroit plan had "died of inanition." But the Post-Dispatch was behind the movement. Self-sacrificing citizens took the place of the weak-kneed, and a few at least of the work-seeking poor who wanted to cultivate land were enabled to do so.

are would have despaired, good crops have been raised and a number of poor persons have been able to support themselves by their own labor. It is such a little thing to let people till the land that would otherwise be unused and covered with noxious weeds. And the money needed to enable them to raise good crops is less than what would be required to start them in any other line of industry. Yet had this Detroit plan been in operation in the big cities in 1892 and 1894 most of the worst effects of the panic would have been averted. Starvation would have been impossible, and the "Industrial Armies" would have stayed at home.

All honor to the men who kept the Detroit plan going in St. Louis.
MORTON FOR PRESIDENT.
 The Republicans of New York, acting through their State Convention, have formally entered Gov. Levi P. Morton in the race for the presidential nomination. This is more than an empty compliment. If the New York Republicans, as now seems probable, win a decisive victory at the November election, their voice will be potent in determining the selection of the next Republican candidate for President.

It is noteworthy that all the factions join in this endorsement. The resolution was introduced by one of the so-called "reform" Republicans and it was carried unanimously, the Platt "machine" men being especially vociferous in their endorsement.

Should the Republicans win the anticipated victory in New York in November, and should Gov. Morton retain his health until the nominating convention, his candidacy will practically rule. Thomas B. Reed out of the race. The favorite son of a doubtful State like New York, with its great electoral vote, will overshadow any other Eastern candidate, especially one whose chief support comes from States that are securely Republican, no matter who is the candidate. Signs of physical weakness in Gov. Morton is about the only thing that will enable Reed to start in the race of 1936.

But the most significant aspect of Gov. Morton's unanimous endorsement by the State Convention is the light it throws on the tendency of our politics. Gov. Morton is in politics simply because he is rich and because he is willing to subscribe liberally to campaign funds. No body thinks of him as a statesman. He is not a speaker. The simplest and briefest State paper has to be written for him. He is not a "practical politician." He is not a leader with a band of devoted followers, like Seward or Conkling or Hill. He is a rich man in politics and nothing more. Yet his nomination for the great office of President of the United States challenges no dissent in his own party. The resolution was introduced by one of the so-called "reform" Republicans and it was carried unanimously, the Platt "machine" men being especially vociferous in their endorsement.

THE SOUTH'S BEST COURSE.

Without the slightest idea of endorsing the violent protest of the African M. E. Conference, or the scarcely less violent protest of the Northern Journalists on the proposed adoption by the South Carolina Constitutional Convention of the "Mississippi plan" of regulating the suffrage, the Post-Dispatch suggests the wisdom of conservative action. The Mississippi plan requires every voter to be able to read satisfactorily and interpret any clause of the constitution. It was avowedly adopted by Mississippi to prevent negro domination in elections, and is a legal but effective measure for that purpose. Although the point has never been tested, the fact that it does not discriminate on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude probably brings it in harmony with the Federal Constitution. It is better than any plan which involves irregularity or violence.

But the comments on Mississippi's action and on the proposed action of South Carolina, and the suggestion that the representation of States limiting the suffrage be cut down show that the South suffers by every effort to deprive the negro of his vote. It would be wise in the South Carolina convention to consider whether the time has not passed for the Mississippi or any other plan of suffrage limitation. The negroes are rapidly coming to a realization of the fact that their interests are identical with those of the whites. It is possible to control a large element of them by intelligent appeal. The rapid industrial development of the South has started a tide of immigration which will probably make restriction useless if it is not now so.

The negro question is the last ditch of the enemies of the South and when that is adjusted on some equitable basis the "race question" will cease to be an issue in politics.

NEXT SUNDAY'S COLORED SUPPLEMENT.

The Colored Supplement of next Sunday's Post-Dispatch will be one of the brightest, most brilliantly illustrated, and most interesting ever issued. Its cartoons will be especially timely and amusing. On the front page McDougall is at his best in a prophetic "Glimpse Ahead a Few Years," wherein he shows the apparently inevitable and universal spread of the bicycle fever in most humorous manner. Another striking and timely illustration in colors depicts the "Grand Opening of the Dramatic Season at the North Pole," where, it seems, "frosts" have no terrors for the Thespians. A third colored illustration tells the story of an aged farmer's ingenious solution of the watermelon and chicken problem in combination. Many other original comic cuts brighten the pages, and the selected illustrations are of the best. The reading matter is rich in fun and humor, and altogether the great Colored Supplement next Sunday will be right in the same class with the best recent comic weeklies.

When Attorney Stark wanted his $5,000 lobby bill, which had been rejected once, revived and submitted to arbitration a majority of the School Board reversed the board's action and ruled for arbitration. When the majority of the School Board wanted to avoid an election so that members whose terms expire could hold over, Attorney Stark found that it was illegal to hold an election this fall and that relying on members must hold over. This is a strange coincidence which may be a mere coincidence and not cause and effect.

Chicago's reform Mayor seems not to have his party well in hand. There were fights without number and broken heads and bloody noses at the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee on Tuesday night. The scenes were delightfully Chicagoan, and amounted almost to a pig-sticking. The "harmony" committee will have a pretty task in bringing these rioters together in peace.

It may have done the prosperous Americans who had to take steepest passage in the great St. Louis some good to get a taste of what poor men crossing the sea have to put up with. Good people who never know want are sometimes benefited by a glimpse of the inequalities of life.

It is published in Ohio that ex-Gov. Campbell refused a pension. But refusing a pension is not, perhaps, the best thing for an Ohio man to do if he is seeking popular favor. Giving up a pension is as bad as resigning an office, and is likely to be so regarded by Ohio men.

The first United States mail car has just been put on the New York street railroad. This enterprise is an old story in St. Louis. Many cities as well as the American metropolis would profit by following in the wake of solid, progressive St. Louis.

Delegate Kristemeyer's scars should prove a warning to all municipal statesmen who promote too much. The most successful public servant cannot give away the entire earth; much as he may be inclined to share it with his friends.

When a State convention roars in admiration on the appearance of Boss Platt and the band plays "Hail to the Chief," there can be no doubt that Empire State politics is still run by machinery.

If President Cleveland has been waiting for a response from the country in regard to his third term, he is likely to be fully convinced by this time. The American people want no third term Presidents yet.

If the trusts can last through the present Administration, which has so much encouraged them, and can then elect a Republican President, they will be in very good shape for permanent work.

Whatever may be Senator Vest's opinions when his foot once more touches American soil, he will find the rough-hewn Alleghenies have been singing unceasingly since his departure for the baths.

Possibly contractors suppose that the new City Hall, which is likely to shelter so many inferior municipal officials, should necessarily be constructed with inferior materials.

Baron Von Hammerstein is in hiding to escape punishment for forgery. But let us not be too severe on the Baron. There are no reports as yet that he has been seeking a rich American wife.

The Post-Dispatch is easily in the lead among St. Louis newspapers. If esteemed contemporaries would cease fretting over this fact their competition for second place would be more interesting.

Mr. Stanford is very kind to be handing over the electoral vote of Missouri to his party. Such benevolence, however, is quite common everywhere in the year preceding a Presidential election.

With the largest drug grinding establishment in the West, and the largest coffee and peanut roasting plant, St. Louis will be in an especially favorable situation to serve the country.

Perhaps there would have been fewer silver people in Illinois if Mr. Horr had not attempted to debate with Mr. Harvey. It was a most unfortunate gabfest for the monometallists.

Speaker Crisp says he wants a plank in the next National Democratic platform calling for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Isn't that crisp enough?

The State convention of his party has shown that it has no faith in the report that Gov. Morton was overcome by the heat last summer while viewing a procession. Boss Pilley would like to tangle a band in the hair of Mayor Walbridge, but fortunately nature has kindly protected his honor from such assaults.

The withdrawal of Candidate Bradley in Kentucky and Yachtman Dunraven in New York seems to put these gentlemen in the same boat.

Since his State has named him for President, Gov. Morton feels that he made no mistake in putting his staff into 532 breeches.

If Hornbrowler is to be put on the bench, what is to become of Senator Lindsay's hopes? Has he fitted as a Kentucky goldbug in vain?

When the Browns go to Louisville to lay eggs it is time to close the season and distribute the tail-end honors.

If Cuba could get an army of Texans into Cuba, the matter of recognition would be very soon disposed of.

Dunraven should get himself a pallid bust of Pallas and go to roost.

Love.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.
 Love is no bird that nests and dies. No star that buds and blooms, and dies. No star that shines and disappears. Love is the god who lights the star. Love tells the rose what perfume are, and lights and feeds the deathless fire.
 Love is no joy that dies apace. With the delight of love and bread. Love is no feast of wine and bread. Red-ventured and gold harvested. Love is the god who lights the star. Love tells the rose what perfume are, and lights and feeds the deathless fire.

WILL-KNOWN ST. LOUISANS A CASE OF MOTHER-IN-LAW.

William C. Schutz.

William C. Schutz was born in St. Louis thirty-nine years ago. In 1871 he became connected with the firm of Rice & Dyes. He has continued with the same firm through its several changes until the present time. He is now vice president of the Mercantile Cigar Company. Mr. Schutz is a member of several societies and clubs.

MEN OF MARK.

In his youthful days Mr. Keir Hardie was something of a "dandy" in appearance.

John Thomas Way, a Kansan, has a son named Westward The Star of Empire Takes Its Way.

Mr. Rudd, whose skeleton was found on Mount Adamele, in the Italian Tyrol, where it had lain undiscovered for five years, was an artist, whose home was in Brooklyn. At the time of his disappearance Mr. Rudd was 35 years old.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, who created a sensation recently by declaring that Sir Walter Scott died insane, not only still holds to that opinion, but asserts that Shakespeare died from drunkenness, and that many other poets and geniuses died from insanity.

The number of things that Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, can do well surprises all but his friends. The latter declare, says the New York Sun, that he writes as well as acts, and that he can play with more skill than he can do either. As an artist with the brush he is considerably better than an amateur.

W. S. Stratton, the Indiana carpenter who went to Cripple Creek and is now fast becoming a millionaire, was at one time being reached there in the greatest destitution, and is said to have offered Senator Wolcott a half interest in his mine for $300. Stratton is as plain and democratic a man as he was before he "struck it rich."

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Mrs. Hearst's valuable collection of old lace in her Washington home is insured for $50,000.

Mrs. John A. Logan is going abroad this fall to write letters to a Chicago newspaper. At Louisville last week, as usually at gatherings of the G. A. R., she was one of the central figures of the reunion.

The Princess of Capua, who died recently at Lucca, was the daughter of a beautiful Irish girl, Miss Penelope Smith, who became the most popular wife of Charles Ferdinand of Bourbon, Prince of Capua, brother of Ferdinand II. of Naples, the notorious King Bomba.

A Chicago woman, who had long been an admirer of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's books, was grievously disappointed when, after much maneuvering, she secured the autograph. Not only was Mrs. Burnett over-dressed, but she chattered frivolously about trivial things, so that her visitor went home with an idol shattered.

Mrs. Tarnsey complains that she saw but few pretty women in Europe this summer, and those few were encountered in Paris and Berlin. Outside of these capitals the standard of feminine beauty seemed deplorably low. The ugliest women she met were British female tourists on the continent, who appeared to be as lacking in neatness and "style" as in good looks.

FLYING CHAFF.

Dix: "How long has your cook been with you?"
 "This is the second year of her reign."—Puck.

Hostess: "Be careful, Johnny, how you sit out there on the damp grass."
 (city bred): "Gosh, ain't seen a park policeman since I've been here."

No, Maude, dear, the tailor would scarcely make a good matrimonial agent, although he does press other people's suits for them.—Philadelphia Record.

"How did Watson ever induce that rich old Miss Chasely to marry him?"
 "He raised a beard." "What had that to do with it?" "It made him look like a cat!"—Puck.

Walton: "Why did Jones break off his engagement with Miss Gladstone?"
 Jackson: "On account of her past." "What was the matter with it?" "Nothing; only he thought it was too long."—Spare Moments.

Briggs: "I have just written a long letter to a girl, but, somehow, I haven't said a thing." Griggs: "I wish I had that girl. I once wrote a long letter to a girl, and if I hadn't said anything in it I wouldn't have cost me so much."—New York Herald.

A Phenomenal Growth.

From the Sedalia Democrat.
 The growth of the Post-Dispatch under the new management has been phenomenal. Since Col. Chas. H. Jones took control of the paper the circulation has increased from 20,000 to 80,000, and the improvements have kept pace with the growth in circulation. The Democrat does not approve of the course of the Post-Dispatch in every instance, but certainly the courage and independence of the paper and its devotion to the interests of the people challenge the admiration of the Democrats of Missouri and entitles it to the success it enjoys. The experience of the past few months certainly demonstrates that Col. Jones is one of the ablest journalists in the country.

Where Mills Stands.

From the Denison (Tex.) Dispatch.
 Senator Mills has written a letter on the monetary question and "astrides the line." He is for gold, silver, greenbacks, sticks, stamps, postal cards and Roger C. Mills.

BRUSHES W. WHITTIER UNABLE TO GET POSSESSION OF HIS CHILDREN.

Brushes W. Whittier has been compelled to make the assistance of the courts to regain possession of his two children. Brushes, Jr., aged 5 and Ethel, aged 13 months. At present his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Hudson, 500 Carrie avenue, has the two, and she most positively refuses to give them up to their natural protector. Wednesday morning Whittier applied in the Circuit Court for writ of habeas corpus to compel Mrs. Hudson to give up the children. Judge Wood made the writ returnable on Sept. 25, when she must produce them in court.

Several months ago when his wife's health began to fail, at her request Whittier took up his abode with his mother-in-law. On Sept. 19 Mrs. Whittier died. As Whittier never had got along well with Mrs. Hudson he decided to move. Mrs. Hudson had no objection to his seeking other quarters—quite the contrary—but when he started to take his furniture and the children he said no. When Whittier called to see the children she slammed the door in his face. He was angry, but made no forcible attempt to enter the house. He sought a lawyer, who cautioned him to keep the peace and make another demand. This he did, with no better satisfaction than before. Then he resorted to law to bring his obstinate mother-in-law to terms. He claims that the children will be neglected if he gets them.

BORNSTEIN HAS VANISHED.

Deputy Sheriffs and Detectives Pay Their Respects to Prosecutor Johnson.

Harry Bornstein has disappeared. Three deputy sheriffs waited for him all night Tuesday at his home, 2009 Howard street, but he did not show up. These deputies are now scouring the city for him. Bornstein is a disreputable character, a salaried attorney at the Four Courts, for he was practicing illegally after Prosecutors Johnson and Johnson had taken possession of the Police Department. Prosecutors Johnson and Johnson have been looking for him since he disappeared. Bornstein couldn't be driven out of the city, says Col. Johnson, and he will be a nuisance to the city. He has been hiding out in the city for some time. He has been hiding out in the city for some time. He has been hiding out in the city for some time.

FOR A FREE BRIDGE.

Manufacturers' Association to Take Up the Matter Tuesday.

St. Louis' desire for a free bridge will be taken up by the Manufacturers' Association at a special meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon next in the Insurance Building, Broadway and Olive street. The Manufacturers' Association has been industriously engaged the past month gathering statistics and data. The association's plan is to present a memorial to the city council, asking that body to allow the city to vote on a tax of one-fourth of one per cent for ten years to build a bridge. The association is being prepared for the meeting's consideration. Such a tax can only be accomplished by an amendment to the city charter, and hence the necessity of a vote by the people.

This visit is the outcome of invitations extended by the Commercial Club of St. Louis to the business men of the other cities to visit St. Louis, and is in recognition of the entertainment St. Louis has given to the business men of the other cities who have visited here.

CHRISTIANITY'S CRY. SHE WANTS HER MONEY.

Continuation of the Armenian Outrages Must Be Averted.

The horrible atrocities of Turk and Kurd perpetrated upon the defenseless Armenians, stories of which have been growing with frightful detail the past few months, have aroused all civilized nations. The account printed in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, corroborating past statements and adding new horrors in the telling, sent a shudder through the readers of the story. That the brutalities of the Turks demand immediate punishment is the opinion of St. Louis ministers, is evidenced by the strong expressions of those quoted below. Many of the preachers of St. Louis have not yet returned from their vacations, but those who have, undoubtedly express the sentiment of those who have not.

In reply to questions as to what should be done in the interest of civilization and humanity, those interviewed said:

Rev. W. W. Boyd: "The bitter cry of Armenia ought to arouse the humane sentiment of mankind in her behalf. Not only from the Christian standpoint, but on the ground of a common humanity, all civilized nations, and especially Great Britain and America, ought to interfere and demand of the Turk that his unrepeatable atrocities cease. A radical settlement of this Armenian question would be the dismemberment of Turkey, and doubtless this is the only way to avert the catastrophe."

Rev. J. L. Parsons, Compton Heights Christian Church: "The Turkish Government is a disgrace to the name of humanity. It should be taken out of the hands of Turkey and should be administered by a commission of the United States and Great Britain. The outrages call for the interference of civilization. The Turkish empire and the Armenian republic are in a state of anarchy. The Turkish empire and the Armenian republic are in a state of anarchy. The Turkish empire and the Armenian republic are in a state of anarchy."

PREDICTS A TEMPEST THAT WILL MAKE HAVOC ON LAND AND SEA.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 13.—Prof. Wiggins, the weather prophet, has issued a diagram of the present position of the planets, which he claims will cause tremendous series of storms by land and sea this week. His speech is as follows: "The earth is near the autumnal equinox on September 23. The sun will be on the celestial equator, the moon being near the equator. The moon will be at her inferior conjunction, or at her nearest point to the earth. The moon will be at her perigee, or at her closest point to the earth. The moon will be at her perigee, or at her closest point to the earth. The moon will be at her perigee, or at her closest point to the earth."

BLAZING GAS.

Costly Fire for the Glass Works at Alexandria, Ind.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 13.—One of the immense gas mains feeding the furnaces of the New American Plate Glass Works at Alexandria was broken last night while a casting was being made in the main building. The accident was occasioned by one of the heavy pots falling from a derrick squarely upon the feed pipe. The full force of gas in the well became ignited, but the workmen, who were on duty in time, fled from the building. Some of them had narrow escapes from being burned to death. Although the works are supplied with perfect fire protection, the rush of hot gas was so rapid that the hose and pump couplings were almost instantly destroyed. Assistance was called for from the fire department, and the various fire departments responded. It was impossible to shut off the flow of gas or extinguish the flames. The smaller buildings of the works. The gas will cost up to $75,000. The plant was only re-opened last Thursday and the second cast was being made when the accident occurred. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000, and is the largest plant of the kind in the world.

Uncle Sam May Now Recognize Cubans as Belligerents.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 18.—News by the British steamer Taff is that Banes, a seaport on the north coast of Pinar del Rio, is in the hands of the insurgents. Gibrara, an adjacent and equally fortified city, is likely to succumb next. The Taff transported Spanish troops from Gibrara to Havana. Rich planters are in sympathy with the revolution. The Taff is expected to have a war vessel and hundreds of men to aid the insurgents.

EDICT ISSUED BY CHINA'S EMPEROR.

Extreme Indignation Expressed Over the Recent Riots.

THREATS OF PUNISHMENT.

While Forcibly Worded It Is Not Believed the Edict Will Carry Much Weight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 18.—The attitude of the Emperor of China in relation to the recent outbreaks against missionaries is shown by an edict recently issued by the Emperor, which is published in a local paper.

The Emperor says: "Since the opening of international commerce with Western countries foreigners have always resided in the inland districts at peace and harmony with their native neighbors and we in our imperial love for both natives and foreigners alike have time and again commanded our high provincial authorities to pay extra heed to the protection of the latter from harm. Judge of our extreme indignation, then, upon hearing the first of the riots in the capital, destroyed and burned down by the rioters, the Emperor has issued an edict, far and wide, in so much that a number of sub-provincial and sub-districts of the Empire have been placed under the strict supervision of the Emperor's army, and now to receive news from Fu Kien reporting that evil characters have murdered and wounded a very large number of foreigners at Ku Tien, going so far in their ruthless ferocity as to murder even a woman."

"With reference to the Sze Chuen riots, a number of rioters have already been arrested and will undergo trial, but the chiefs and heads of the Fu Kien murderers are still at large. I have commanded Pien Pao-Chi, and Ching Yu (Tartar General of Fu Chow), to set to work without delay at the head of the military and district officials and speedily arrest these wicked characters, nor shall any be allowed to escape the meshes of the law. It is the manifest duty of the local mandarins to protect the empire to be always on the alert and prevent such worthless characters from manufacturing scurrilous tales and exciting the populace; they shall be severely punished if they fail to do so. What sort of trifling and indifference to the Emperor's commands has brought about all these recent serious outrages?"

"We would also therefore command the various viceroys, Governors, and Governors of the empire to impress upon all their subordinates the necessity of being alert to detect and punish all such tales which excite unfounded suspicions in the breasts of all. There are many who will be severely punished in the future, they will be at once punished with the sword, and as to the local officials, they shall be severely punished if they fail to do so. Let these commands be known to all within the empire."

Little value is attached by foreigners to this edict. It is now well understood that the orders of the Emperor of China have virtually no force outside the walls of Peking. In several previous occasions such edicts have been issued, but they have emanated from the throne, but have not been enforced. It is generally believed that the action of the Emperor in this case is a mere gesture of the requirements of the occasion. Instead of dispatching a consul to investigate the circumstances connected with the Sze Chuen atrocities, the task should have been entrusted to a secretary of legation, and instead of the Emperor's edict, the Emperor's edict should have been accompanied by 500 red-coats and blue-jackets.

VENOMOUS VENDIG.

He Has a Child Arrested for Taking a Worthless Bag of Ribbon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Jennie Harris, 14 years old, was up in Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday charged by Supt. Vendig of a ribbon factory with taking a worthless bag of ribbon. The magistrate asked what she stole.

"This," said Supt. Vendig, holding up his hand. "The magistrate had to leave for a moment to see what 'this' was, and then, almost concealed by what three inches long, the magistrate asked what she stole."

"That all" asked his hon in amazement.

"That's all the evidence I have, your honor," said Vendig. "The child has no money and she may have stolen $100 worth of ribbon."

Jennie Harris was working only two days and had picked up the bit of ribbon, thinking it worthless, and put it in her pocket. The magistrate looked very much disgusted and Jennie, who was hoping that her sentence might be imprisonment, was disappointed. The child was taken to the jail and a lecture and dismissed her.

IT IS A COMMON STORY.

It Simply Gives the Stages of Progress From Catarrh to Consumption.

Perhaps It Is Yours at One or Other of the Points of Development—If So, Beware of the End.

There are hundreds of people who are sick and who don't know what is the matter with them. They are sick because they are "tired of doctors," because the doctor can't tell what the trouble is or how to relieve it. To these this little book of the progress of catarrh is of great value. It tells the stages of the disease, and shows the symptoms that apply to their case, and if they are one of the points of development, it tells them what to do. The treatment that cures these various forms of catarrh is the Copeland treatment, as thousands of persons cured by it attest.
